Changes to the PTHS Entrance

This summer the long-awaited elevator is being installed at the high school and it will replace the current entrance and garden area. The entrance will have a completely new look and those who struggle with the uneven sidewalks and stairs will have an easier time accessing our school.

The garden area stonework has a plaque that reads, "IN RECOGNITION OF MR. & MRS. CHESTER J. FLINT FOR THEIR TIRELESS INTEREST IN PORT TOWNSEND SCHOOL GROUNDS BEAUTIFICATION - PRESENTED 1963."

If anyone knows how to reach any relatives of the Flints, we, at PTHS, would like to let them know about the change in the front of the school. We will put the plaque in another place at the school, but would love to talk to a family member before the construction begins. Please email me at pthsalum68@gmail.com with any information. - Jan Boutillier

PTHS Alma Mater

In a city by the water, reared against the sky
 Proudly stands
 our Alma Mater
 As the years go by,
 Forward ever
 be our watchword
 Conquer and prevail.
 Hail to thee Our Alma Mater
 Townsend High all hail!

Bully Free Starts With Me at PTHS

Were you bullied as a student? Or were you a bullier? "Words can hurt or words can heal. What did yours do today?" That quote is just one that appears on the walls of our alma mater. PTHS ran an anti-bullying campaign at school the last week in March and takes bullying very seriously. The current principal, Carrie Ehrhardt, who is in her 17th year as PTHS principal, has worked hard to be a leader in changing the culture. PTHS is definitely a kinder place now than the "good old days."

Some of the PTHS staff in their anti-bullying shirts

Students wrote down their bullying experiences on a hand-shaped paper and posted them on the paper wall in the Commons. Students and staff had photos taken of themselves with their shirts, each one stating "Bully Free Starts With Me." It was a very moving and emotional display.

1993 Redskin Boys Basketball Team Honored ~ Jan Boutilier

The 1993 Redskins Boys Basketball team was honored during halftime of the Redhawks game on Friday, January 19, 2018. It was an emotional evening seeing these basketball players from the team of 1993 reunited again in the Bruce Blevins Gym at PTHS, having known most of them since elementary school. Their smiles were wide as they entered the gym where they spent so much of their time during high school. This was definitely a major highlight of my career at PTHS and I am so glad to have had a part in this amazing night. Seeing these young men again, meeting their families and seeing their parents again was so wonderful.

A couple of cool things here worth mentioning - Coach Ryan Robertson named his two boys after players on the 1993 team - Dan and Andy. He also is wearing the same tie that he wore at the state tourney. None of the players or Coach Robertson live in this area and traveled long distances to be at this event.

1993 Team at State

 Kneeling: Coach Mike Kelly
 Cheerleaders: Carissa Parker, Ali Armstrong, Kim Erickson, Kim Schubert, Bethany Schultz.

Swish! Swish! Determined to gain back the laurels they had lost in baseball, Claribelle Easton and her team consistently outplayed the opposition to win the first place in the girls' basketball tourney.

Volleyball

Not able to gain a clean sweep of the girls' athletics, team 6, captained by Shirley Balch, closed the G.A.A. season by out-maneuvering and out-fighting all other teams to become volleyball champions for the 1948 season. Their victory in volleyball was all the more successful, due to the fact that they did not lose a game.

Standing: Anne Baker, Jean Crutcher, Frances Youngs

Kneeling: Pat Larsen, Shirley Balch, Captain, and Joanne Owens

From the 1958 WaWa

Eat, drink and be merry! ... the creed of the students eating in the cafeteria.

11:53 ... a distant rumbling can be heard. It grows louder and louder as students approach. With a swish, they rush into the cafeteria. Noise and laughter bubbles up all around, growing in volume as more students enter. The line steadily decreases and weary faces light up as they approach the end. Mouths are moving constantly, either eating or talking. Another milk bottle crashes and tinkles to its doom. Books, piled in mounds on every table, wait for their owners to claim them.

12:25 ... the bell rings. The scene gives the impression of mass confusion as students hurry to put their trays away and collect their books. All is quiet and still except for the muffled sounds of the kitchen staff cleaning up.

Homecoming Debuts at Townsend - 1968 WaWa

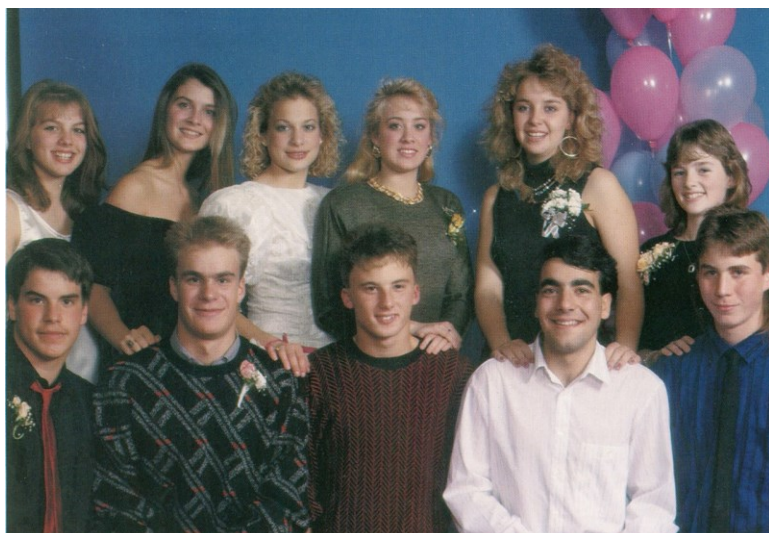

Queen Shirley Saunders and Princesses Kathy Embody and Traci Scott reigned over the 1967 Homecoming, the first in Port Townsend's history. The beginning of the weekend events included the burning of a Bainbridge dummy at Hudson Point before an exciting football game which ended with a 39-16 Redskin victory over Bainbridge. Soon after the game, Queen Shirley Saunders was crowned before the crowd at the pep dance. The Girls' Club Tolo, "Reminiscing," which highlighted Saturday's events, brought to a successful climax the 1967 Homecoming.
